Editorial Stand
Vulnerable

May we share with you some thoughts about the newspaper business as pointed out by a veteran editor? He is John S. Knight, chief of the Knight newspaper chain and editor of the Detroit Free Press. Mr. Knight made his observation after a nostalgic visit to the convention of the American Society of Newspaper Editors in Washington recently. He wrote, in part:

"A great deal of talk centered upon the media's loss of credibility, due perhaps in large part to attacks by the vice president and disgruntled public officials. We should, I think, accept such criticism philosophically while endeavoring to set the record straight at all times.

"An editor, who must or should take vigorous editorial positions on the great issues of the day, is not meant to be loved. If he seeks affection and popularity, he should be in public relations. Newspapermen who formulate policy have a commitment to truth. The unvarnished truth is frequently unpleasant reading since it often differs from the reader's preconceived notions of what the truth should be.

"At times, I fear, what is popularly known as the press media, provide, through their own lack of commitment and perception, some inexcusable transgressions upon the code of truth and accuracy. In these instances, criticism is certainly merited and should not be dismissed with lofty disdain from the ivory tower.

"We do more than endure the shafts and arrows of our critics. Critical comment is carefully evaluated as to its veracity, pertinence and justification. It overcomes smugness, helps to keep us alert.

"As one Knight newspaper editor expressed it so aptly: As long as we have men such as those guiding our newspapers—men who are sometimes proud, sometimes ashamed, and never satisfied, we will make tomorrow's newspaper better than today."—Jackson (Miss.) Clarion-Ledger and Daily News

Nat'l Freight Car Pool Is R.R. Goal

By JANET STAIHAR
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — With Amtrak under their belts, the nation's railroads are plugging in Congress for a national freight car pool backed by a federally guaranteed bank loan. Rid of their unprofitable passenger trains, the railroads are trying to save more money by backing a bill to provide a fleet of freight cars to be rented by shippers or carriers when individual railroads find their own supply is short.

Boxcar shortages have plagued rail shippers for years, especially in the Midwest and West. Railroads claim they can't afford to build new cars, and some find it cheaper to pay penalties for using the cars of other companies for months and even years at a time.

In one celebrated incident, freight cars allegedly missing from Penn Central were found painted over and claimed by a small Midwestern railroad. The railroads are lobbying for one of several freight car bills sponsored by Sen. Warren G. Magnuson, Senate Commerce Committee chairman.

The measure would set up a nonprofit National Freight Car Corp., which would offer for leasing to railroads a fleet of new, general service freight cars.

Free of control by the Interstate Commerce Commission, the corporation would receive initial funding of between $10 million and $30 million to be raised from a 50 cents per car per day surcharge paid by railroads now using other companies' cars.

72 Britons Die in Yugo Air Crash

RIJEKA, Yugoslavia (AP) — A two-week Adriatic holiday ended before it started Sunday night in death for 72 British tourists aboard a Yugoslav charter jetliner that crashed and burned as it was landing at Rijeka airport.

A Yugoslav family of three also was killed, the organizers of the tour said, but the Yugoslav tour director and the four Yugoslav crew members escaped. The crew members were slightly injured.

It was the worst air disaster in Yugoslavia since September, 1966, when a British charter plane crashed near Ljubljana, killing 98 holidaying Britons.

The plane Sunday was a twin-jet TU134, built in the Soviet Union and flown by Yugoslavia's Avioex line. It had flown a load of British tourists from Split to Gatwick airport, 30 miles south of London, and was landing with the new group of tourists at the airport on the island of Krk, 20 miles south of this port on the northern Adriatic.

Airport officials said the skies were overcast and there had been rain, but weather conditions were suitable for a normal landing. Witnesses said the plane landed and taxied about 200 yards. Then the left wing broke off and the plane slewed around 180 degrees, flipped over and caught fire. A series of explosions followed.

Authorities said the passengers were held in their seats by their seat belts and burned to death, but the crew escaped because the control cabin broke off and did not burn.

The only surviving passenger, Jrajko Sarajcic of the Yugoslav agency, said when he felt the plane breaking up, he unbuckled his safety belt and ran toward a crack in the tail, calling in English for others to follow him.

Meanwhile, the plane was in darkness and the passengers began to panic. A man shouted that everyone should be calm, the survivor continued, and at once the passengers fell silent. But apparently no one followed Sarajcic, who got out through the break in the fuselage.

The Yugoslav passengers killed were a professor at Zagreb university, his wife and 5-year-old daughter. They got aboard because a British family of three canceled their passage at the last minute.

Ten British children were among those killed.

Boy 10, Drowns at Marked Tree

MARKED TREE, Ark. (AP) — Bradley Neal McCoy, 10, of Tyrone, drowned Saturday when he fell into the St. Francis River near Marked Tree.

Authorities said the boy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Blackwood of Tyrone, fell from a lock and dam structure on the river north of Marked Tree. He was fishing with a group of other persons.

Officers Who Signed Anti-War Ad May Resign From Service

FT. BRAGG, N.C. (AP) — One of 29 officers who signed a newspaper advertisement opposing the Vietnam war says he and some other signers are considering taking up a military offer to resign.

Maj. Stuart Freyer, an Army doctor at Ft. Bragg, said each man was questioned by his unit commander and was given the opportunity to resign. "We're considering it," Freyer said.

The 29 officers who ran their names with the quarter-page advertisement in the Fayetteville Observer at nearby Fayetteville included 28 Army officers and one Air Force officer. Freyer said 13 of the 29 are doctors. Three are majors, 14 captains and the rest lieutenants.

1,500 Guards Take Over in Chattanooga

By JOE EDWARDS
Associated Press Writer

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (AP) — More than 1,500 National Guardsmen are moving into Chattanooga to help local and state police restore order after three nights of firebombings, sniper fire and property destruction.

Gov. Winfield Dunn ordered two battalions of guardsmen—1,500 to 2,000 men—to the area late Sunday after Mayor Robert Kirk Walker said the 100-man local police force and 80 state troopers had been unable to stop the disturbances.

A citywide 7 p.m. to 5 a.m. curfew failed to contain violence Sunday night, but officials said the city was "fairly quiet" early today.

Gene Roberts, the fire and police commissioner, said the disorders did not appear to be organized but were the result of guerrilla tactics by "irresponsible people on the prowl."

Most of the incidents have been in predominantly black neighborhoods, but Roberts said the violence was not black against white. "It didn't start that way and it isn't that way now," he said.

Police said the only person injured in the three nights is a 32-year-old Negro man who suffered small-caliber bullet wounds in the back and face. He was listed in fair condition Sunday.

Police said 64 persons arrested Sunday night brought the total arrested in the three nights to about 300 persons, most of them black. About half are charged with violating the Sunday curfew or a 7 p.m. to 8 a.m. curfew imposed Saturday night, and most of the rest were arrested early Saturday on disorderly conduct charges.

The disturbances Friday night began after rock performer Wilson Pickett failed to appear at a concert, saying he had not been paid in advance. Police said young blacks demanding return of their money ripped up seats and tore up the box office, causing an estimated $2,500 worth of damage.

Tor Virving, Norwegian vice consul in Vancouver, said the consulate would conduct its own investigation. Meanwhile, two directors of Bergen Lines of Norway, owner of the vessel, were expected to arrive from Oslo today.

Virving said after inspecting the vessel that there was no reason to believe an explosion had preceded the blaze.

The Meteor was six hours from Vancouver and the end of an eight-day Alaskan tour when the fire began.

Hope Police Dept. reports the following week-end violations: 7 traffic, 10 license, 10 liquor, 7 public drunkenness, 9 driving while intoxicated, 1 carrying concealed weapon, 1 improper muffler, 1 drinking on highway, 2 resisting arrest, 1 AWOL, 1 shoplifting, 1 failure to answer summons and 1 no ACC authority.

This brings to a total of 120 accidents, 33 injuries and 2 deaths for the year.

each—requires that the Navy devise alternate and less costly ways of doing its job.

"What the Navy needs," said Zumwalt in an interview, "... is a lesser number of carriers than we have ever had in the past, but more powerful and nuclear propelled, combined with a larger number of much less sophisticated and much less costly ships" equipped with helicopters and vertical takeoff aircraft.

A fourth nuclear carrier was sliced out of this year's Pentagon budget.

Questions and answers from the interview:

Q. Are you not approaching a situation where, because of budget stringencies, you will have a smaller fleet, but not the modernized fleet that you had hoped for?

A. First, the Soviet threat, as all members of the Executive Branch have thought about quite clearly, has grown markedly in recent years. The two areas of greatest growth have been in their strategic nuclear forces where they have achieved parity and are continuing to build, and in their Navy where they have come from

Death Ship Probed for 11 Missing

VANCOUVER, B.C. (AP) — Searchers comb the blackened interior of the Norwegian cruise ship Meteor for signs of 11 missing crew members today while the Norwegian consulate begins an investigation into the shipboard fire that killed 21 other crewmen.

The 67 passengers aboard the 300-foot vessel escaped without injury early Saturday when a fire began in the forward compartment housing crew members. Most survivors described their evacuation as calm and routine and praised the crew.

The ship came into Vancouver harbor Sunday afternoon, listing to port but showing little evidence of damage. The bodies of 14 crewmen were brought to Vancouver by tug early Sunday and searchers found seven other bodies aboard the ship after it reached port. The ship had carried a crew of 91.

Representatives of the Canadian Department of Transport and Royal Canadian Mounted Police went aboard as soon as the ship reached drydock. Reporters were not allowed aboard nor were they permitted to speak to the captain, identified by the ship's owners as A. Morner.

Tor Virving, Norwegian vice consul in Vancouver, said the consulate would conduct its own investigation. Meanwhile, two directors of Bergen Lines of Norway, owner of the vessel, were expected to arrive from Oslo today.

Virving said after inspecting the vessel that there was no reason to believe an explosion had preceded the blaze.

4 Hurt by Tornado in N. Arkansas

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Four persons were injured, none seriously, Sunday night as a tornado destroyed the home of Mike Miller in the Hill Creek community nine miles north-east of Morrilton.

The tornado was only part of the turbulent weather reported over the state.

There was a confirmed sighting of a tornado south of Fort Smith and a resident of an area north of Alma reported seeing a funnel cloud aloft. A funnel cloud was also reported near Harmony north of Clarksville.

High winds blew the porch off the home of Mrs. Arthur Atkinson in the Shady Grove Community about 15 miles northwest of Conway. Heavy rain and winds up to 40 miles an hour were reported at Conway.

Earlier in the evening, high winds damaged trees and power lines and blew over a chicken house near Mena.

Van Buren reported marble-sized hail.

A house and a barn were damaged by high winds south of Clinton.

High winds also overturned the Travis Hamilton mobile home near Dardanelle, but the four persons inside the home were not injured.

Witnesses said the tornado that destroyed the Miller home dipped from the skies about 10:30 p.m. Officials of the National Weather Service said a barn was destroyed and a nearby home damaged.

A low pressure system produced the turbulent weather. A cold front is expected to move across southeastward the state by tonight, triggering showers and thunderstorms. However, not much temperature change is expected with the frontal passage.

Highs today and Tuesday were forecast in the 80s. Lows tonight should be in the high 50s northwest to low 70s in the south.

Overnight lows include Fayetteville 63, Harrison 61, Jonesboro 64, Pine Bluff 71, Texarkana 72, El Dorado 70, Memphis 66, Little Rock 65 and Fort Smith 63.

Must Notify SS to Receive Student Pay

Summer vacations will be here soon and students receiving social security benefits are reminded that failure to notify social security of their intent to continue as full time students will result in their checks being stopped.

Otis A. Blackwood, manager of the Texarkana social security office, stated that a student beneficiary, age 18 or older, continues to receive his checks during summer vacation months. Payments cannot exceed four months during the summer break and students must intend to return to full-time attendance in the fall. A simple notice to the Social Security Administration of intent is all that is necessary. A timely notice will avoid delays. Benefits are no longer payable when a student marries or changes his mind about attending school full time.

Summer work will not interfere with students checks unless the earnings exceed $1680. If they do a report of actual earnings must be filed with the social security office.

For more information contact your social security office at 121 College Drive, Texarkana, Texas or telephone 794-3755.

Disaster in Public Housing Spells Out as Mansions for Poor

By KEN HARTNETT
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — A plan to demolish the Pruitt-Igoe public housing project in St. Louis has spawned a vision of $60,000 townhouses for the dislodged poor.

A proposal to raze the still unpaid for but largely abandoned project in the heart of St. Louis' slums has been sitting since January on the desk of Secretary of George Romney of the Department of Housing and Urban Development.

Hammered out by housing officials and community groups, the plan calls for construction of townhouses for 900 families where Pruitt-Igoe's 15-year-old concrete high rises now stand.

By themselves, the townhouses would cost about $20 million, or about $20,000 per unit.

But demolition of Pruitt-Igoe's 33 slablike buildings—most of them now concrete

Ash Flat Bank Robbed of $25,000

ASH FLAT, Ark. (AP)—Two armed men abducted an Ash Flat bank official and his family and then robbed the bank of an estimated $25,000 late Sunday night, police said this morning.

State Police said Boyd Carpenter, 50, president of the Bank of Ash Flat, and his wife, Maxine, and their daughter, Lou Ann, 18, were left tied up in their car near Rector, more than 100 miles from Ash Flat. They were unharmed.

Officers said the two men, thought to be in their late 20s, wore nylon hose as masks. The men had a pistol and a rifle, authorities said.

Police said the men entered the Carpenter home about 8:30 Sunday night. One of the men took Carpenter to the bank about midnight and the other took Mrs. Carpenter and Miss Carpenter to Boydsville near Rector.

After taking the money from the bank, the gunman and Carpenter drove to Boydsville, authorities said.

A spokesman said the gunmen left the Carpenters tied up in a car at Boydsville. They reportedly took the car keys and disconnected the battery to prevent the Carpenters from using the car horn. Carpenter reportedly freed himself, connected the battery and blew the horn until help arrived.

5 Week-End Deaths on State Roads

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Five persons were killed on the state's highways this week-end. Two of the victims died Sunday.

The Associated Press week-end highway fatality count began at 6 p.m. Friday and ended at midnight Sunday.

State Police said Billy W. Tittle, 22, of Russellville was killed near Russellville on U.S. 64 when he lost control of his car as he was being pursued by a Pope County deputy at a high rate of speed.

The victims were identified by State Police as:

— Johnnie C. Knight, 41, of Eudora, who was killed early Sunday in a two-vehicle accident on Arkansas 159 at Eudora.

— Rozella Gist, 29, and Jesse Crabtree, 24, both of Mena, who were killed Saturday night on Arkansas 8 near Mena when their car skidded out of control and hit a bridge abutment.

— Jerry Cross, 19, of Hampton, who was struck by a vehicle on U.S. 167 south of Hampton early Saturday as he apparently was lying in the road.

shells stripped and smashed by vandals—means the government would have to write off $31 million in outstanding construction bonds. It would also have to pay $3.5 million for the demolition job.

The arithmetic adds up to a per unit cost for the townhouses of $60,000.

"I think there are other alternatives that ought to be explored," said Romney May 14 while on a personal tour of the project, long considered by housing specialists as the nation's worst example of public housing.

The secretary, said by aides to be wary of creating a precedent that could trigger demolition plans in other cities, called for a continuing look at the problem by a special review team of federal and local officials.

"The fear is we'd get killed by Congress and the rest of the American people," said one aide. "No one wants to take the rap. Meanwhile, you've got 700 families left right there in the middle of the jungle," in buildings designed to house 2,800 families.

Among congressional opponents of demolition is Rep. Leonore Sullivan, D-Mo., ranking member of the House subcommittee on housing.

Mrs. Sullivan advocates conversion of some of the buildings to other uses, including day care and work training centers. She also has suggested creation of a nursing home as well as public housing for the elderly.

People improve their housing, the St. Louis Congresswoman said, by working their way up the economic ladder. "You just don't get put into $60,000 townhouses."

"There's nothing that can be done to make Pruitt-Igoe a place fit for human beings to live in," said Rep. William Clay, D-Mo., whose district embraces the project. Clay advocates demolition, as does Elmer Hammond, chairman of the Pruitt-Igoe District Community Organization. Cost, he charged is only a factor when poor people are involved.

"They (the government) lay money on this rocket (a Mars' launch) shot down over Cape Kennedy. Now they're talking about laying money on Lockheed."

Israeli Envoy Slain by Kidnapers; Turks Take Vengeance Vow

By NICK LUDINGTON

ISTANBUL, Turkey (AP) —

Police hunting the killers of Israeli Consul-General Ephraim Elrom concentrated their search today on a young married couple and seven young men.

Police sources said the couple rented the apartment in the fashionable residential district where Elrom's body was found Sunday during a house-to-house search by 30,000 police and troops.

The couple were identified as Neomi and Ilkay Demir, both university students in their early 20s. The seven other men named as suspects also were students.

Two of the men, Ertugrul Kurucu and Yusuf Kupeli, are veterans of radical, anti-American youth movements.

As the troops and police pressed a house-to-house search for the killers, the government reportedly was considering an extension of martial law in several provinces. Martial law was imposed for one month in 11 provinces on April 26 after months of escalating terrorist activity.

Premier Nihat Erim messaged Israeli Premier Gold Meir: "I guarantee the Turkish government will do everything in its power to give these killers the penalty they deserve."

But the kidnapers were still at large early today.

Elrom, 58, was seized a week ago by members of the Turkish People's Liberation Army. The kidnapers said they would execute the Israeli if the government did not release all "revolutionaries" it was holding. The government refused to bargain and started a sweeping roundup of leftists.

Elrom's body was found Sunday morning in an empty apartment in a fashionable residential district. His hands were tied behind his back, and he had been shot three times in the head. His captors had given the government until Thursday evening to meet their terms, but an army doctor estimated that he was killed between 5 and 7 p.m. Saturday, giving his murders plenty of time to escape before the start at midnight of a 15-hour curfew ordered to aid the searches.

The owners of the apartment, a woman named Semih Olcayto, told police she rented it 45 days ago to two young men who said they were an engineer and an accountant. Police said five young men left the apartment Saturday night before the curfew and told the concierge he would be killed if he gave the alarm. He apparently heeded their warning.

A Turkish Air Force plane took Elrom's body and his widow back to Israel Sunday. Their only son was killed in a plane crash last year.

Mrs. Meir said the "senseless" killing was the work of "people who are not impressed by such things as humanity. This was a man who had done no wrong ... who was not involved in this problem of Turkey. They just took a man and killed him."

ISTANBUL (AP) — New

tremors today panicked the desolate survivors in eastern Turkey of the country's second quake this month. The body count rose to 812 around Bingol as troops and volunteers dug in the ruins, but no casualties were attributed to the aftershocks today.

Mobile hospitals, soup kitchens and other emergency aid centers cared for the injured and homeless in the town, 90 per cent of which was destroyed in Saturday's quake.

Some survivors were still without tents. Provincial officials reported by radio-telephone, however, that food and water were adequate thanks to relief efforts by the army and neighboring towns.

Half the death toll was in villages scattered over the countryside 450 miles east of Ankara. Some outlying villages had still not been contacted.

Premier Nihat Erim toured the disaster area Sunday and said all that could be done was being done. He praised the work of volunteers and the assistance given by local army commanders and provincial governors.

Survivors told harrowing stories of entire families trapped in the ruins. The quake struck as many residents were preparing for bed. Failure of electricity supplies and rain hampered rescue work.

They have three times the number of submarines that we have. They will overtake us in the number of sea-based ballistic missile submarines in 1974, a figure which has been publicly announced.

Therefore, we are up against an enemy who is building at a literally fantastic rate, who is willing to devote a very high percentage of its gross national product to defense, and from within defense, a very high percentage to his navy because he recognizes the tremendous advantage that control of the seas would give him.

Faced with that kind of a threat, we simply must keep the procurement of new ships and new aircraft and the initiation of research and development going no matter how high a price we have to pay in the reduction of our existing shore establishment and ships.

Q. Is the recent Defense Department action postponing the new nuclear powered carrier and two frigates a sign that the hoped-for modernization of the fleet will fall short of your expectations?

A. I think, you really ought to check with Mr. Packard (Deputy Defense Secretary David Packard) to get what the decision means to him. He has made it clear that he's willing to consider the nuclear carrier again in the fiscal '73 budget.

AMERICAN LEGION AUXILIARY

Mayor Proclaims Poppy Day Encourages Observance

Hope Mayor Dr. Sam Strong has designated May 29, 1971, as Poppy Day 1971 in the City of Hope, according to an announcement made today. The proclamation was signed by Mayor Strong as members of the American Legion Junior Auxiliary Unit looked on the ceremonies.

The proclamation reads as follows:

WHEREAS, The American Legion and the American Legion Auxiliary adopted the Memorial Poppy as its memorial flower in 1919 and

WHEREAS by wearing the Poppy, Americans everywhere and especially in this city of Hope, Ark., both pay tribute to these war dead and aid the living by assistance to Veterans and their families in time of need; and

WHEREAS the Poppy Day Program contributions are used solely for the programs of Child Welfare and Rehabilitation in our community and state;

NOW THEREFORE, I Sam Strong, Mayor of the City of Hope, do hereby proclaim May 29th as Poppy Day in our City and urge all citizens of our town to join me in wearing this Memorial Flower as together we remember the sacrifices of so many in defense of our freedom.

Signed Dr. S.W. Strong Mayor, City of Hope, Ark.

SWEET 60 AND HARDLY EVER KISSED

Dear Helen: I'm married to two men—the public one and the private one. When we visit my children or his (all grown) he's all love and kisses. They think I couldn't be luckier, having such an attentive man.

But at home, I'm not only unloved, but un-talked-to. He eats at a TV tray the minute he gets home, then falls asleep on the couch. He made love to me twice in 1968, once in 1969, (if you could call it "love") and he hasn't even put his arm around me for over a year—except when we're with other people. Then he's Old Lovebug and, if I don't play up, it looks like I'm the cold one.

At 60, I don't expect flaming romance, but at least he could be kind. Instead, he's cruel and sarcastic, and has even slapped me around. I'm expected to wait on him, then leave him alone—and if I left him everyone would think I was crazy.—MARRIED TO AN ACTOR Dear M'AA:

Here's a suggestion that might work: Invite one of the grown children to spend a vacation with you. When your husband goes into his act—react in kind. Make it the biggest compatibility team since Lunt and Fontanne.

This could have two effects:

FLOWER POWER NEW YORK (AP) The sunflower, one of nature's most useful annuals, had powerful importance for Indians of the Western world.

The Incas worshiped it as an emblem of the sun; the Plains Indians placed its seeds on graves to provide food for the "Journey to Heaven," and for the Hurons, sunflower leaves made animal fodder, petals were used for dye and its stalks were woven into textiles, reports the new Time-Life Encyclopedia of Gardening.

Popular Term G-men as a term to describe government men gained popularity after the capture of a notorious criminal, George "Machine Gun" Kelly in September, 1933, according to Encyclopaedia Britannica.

Hopefully, several weeks of put-on affection might produce more of the real thing (when you both discover how much happier you are). Or, after a couple of days, your man will revert to type, which would at least show the family you have grounds for leaving him.—H.

Dear Helen: IT DID help! General Mills has given us until December 31, 1971 (rather than May) to complete our Betty Crocker-Kidney Machine Project.

Helen, we've been overwhelmed by the response of your readers to this project. Thousands of coupons (well over 150,000) have poured in from all over the country, and we want to thank everyone. Also, many HHU readers wrote to General Mills asking that we be permitted to continue past the first deadline.

We still need some 300,000 coupons before we can get a kidney machine for our new Regional Hemodialysis Center and, now that we have until December 31, the goal is within reach. We hope your great fans will continue to send along their coupons.—Program Chairman For Kidney Machine Project, Saddle River Reformed Church, 500 East Saddle River Road, Upper Saddle River, New Jersey, 07458.

Dear Readers:

To those of you who are collecting for similar projects in your own areas: General Mills, Inc. recently announced it has changed to completion date for ALL Kidney Machine and other lifesaving equipment from May 31 to December 31, 1971. Keep saving and sending those Betty Crocker coupons!—H.

Dear Helen:

This is another letter to "Murderer at 16": A number of years ago, when abortion was the scandal of the town and meant disgrace for the family, I had one. I lost long-time friends and couldn't walk down the street without those awful stares.

It was a bad job and I nearly died. I was forced to testify against the doctor and he lost his license to practice medicine.

Like you, Miss 16 I felt regret and guilt, not for the destroyed fetus, but for my family and the doctor's life I had ruined, and for myself.

At 16, you should put "shame, guilt and regret" in a box and label them "experience." As you go through life, each achievement should be stacked on top till eventually the first box will sink out of sight.—WIFE AND MOTHER NOW

Television and Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

AP Television-Radio Writer NEW YORK (AP) — The weekend was a feast time in the summer television viewing famine.

Viewers who fancy ice shows or variety shows found a combination in CBS's summer "Ice Palace" series which had its premiere Sunday night.

Girl-watchers had a new cast but a familiar plot Saturday in the annual "Miss U.S.A." competition on CBS.

Music lovers hooked on CBS's occasional "Young People's Concerts" must have sorely missed Leonard Bernstein in the season's final program of the series.

For the serious-minded, there was NBC's "Venice Be Damned" on Friday, an account of the Italian city's struggle against pollution in its waters and in its air.

ABC's "Cherokee Shaft" on Saturday told of the perils faced by miners and of dissension within their union.

"Ice Palace" was split about even between the usual variety staples—singing and comedy—and skating. There was Leslie Uggams and the Cowbells for music and Skiles and Henderson for some comedy. And no nonsense about having them wobbling around on skates: They worked from a rug island in the middle of the ring. The skaters, skillful and professional, will be around all summer; the variety performers will change each week. It should be pleasantly cooling in hot weather.

The "Miss U.S.A." pageant busily paraded the beauties around, asked them a lot of silly questions and provided viewers with fulsome vital information including the zodiac sign of each finalist. Then came the glorious moment when Miss Pennsylvania was named the winner and burst into the mandatory tears.

Only Bernstein could have pulled off the awkward question and answer gimmick on which the "Young People's Concert" was built. It was a bit like a music lesson, and fragmented the music by the New York Philharmonic Orchestra. Dean Dixon, conductor and narrator, seemed extremely uncomfortable in the latter role, particularly the lighter moments.

"Venice Be Damned," with marvelous photography and a well-written script, reviewed the familiar problems of the sinking city—uncontrolled flooding, open sewage, dirty air corroding priceless statuary and crumbling buildings. How to save it? One expert predicted Venice would lose many of its art treasures within 15 or 20 years unless action was started now.

There was extra impact in the visual treatment of the dangers—from accident and disease—in mining. The ABC special concentrated on conditions in the tunnels of one mine, moving to shots of a union meeting where the men were demanding union support for their strike for better conditions. The hour focused on a situation rarely explored by television.

MODERN TOUCH to historic regalia is provided by Sydney Earl's sunglasses. Otherwise, all was traditional about his performance of a Sioux ceremonial dance at the "First Americans First" symposium at Washington's George Washington University.

Dairy Farm Takes Religion Seriously, Hires a Chaplain

By JOHN GANNAWAY

Pine Bluff Commercial PINE BLUFF, Ark. (AP) — Business and religion, like church and state, are often thought of as separate entities, and, in some cases, the practices in the former would not seem compatible with the philosophy of the latter.

However, some people believe that business and religion do mix and one of them is J. M. Shults, president of Oak Lawn Farms Inc., a poultry and pork products production company with headquarters on U.S. 79 about six miles south of Watson Chapel.

Oak Lawn Farms has what may be the only chaplain in the state.

The chaplain is the Reverend Harry Jacobs, 59, who has been in the ministry for 33 years, the last 14 before coming to Oak Lawn Farms as pastor of the First Baptist Church in Osceola.

A little over a year ago, Shults had never heard of Jacobs and vice versa. Today both are well-pleased with the arrangement that brought Jacobs to the farm.

Shults said it had been his desire since starting the business to have it grow spiritually, as well as financially.

In the past as the business grew, he said he attempted to offer counsel to the employees who contacted him, but finally the firm, with branches and producers in Arkansas, Louisiana, and Texas, grew too large.

He had been considering employing a company chaplain and decided that the time to obtain a full-time chaplain had arrived. Jacobs was employed in August of last year.

Many people were interviewed. "We weren't just looking for someone to fill a position," Shults said. "We were looking for a particular person to have a definite responsibility."

With Jacobs, Shults said, "we found the right man."

After observing the program for almost a year, Shults said he would recommend such a program to industry as a whole. He has received several inquiries about the program from within and outside the state.

Shults said when he conceived the idea he had hoped the program might show other industries that "this was the way to go."

As chaplain, Jacobs travels over a three-state area and visits with employees and their families. He visits both on the production lines and in homes.

Jacobs said this work is intended to build relationships and promote confidence in the chaplain so he will be called when a crisis arises.

However, both Jacobs and Shults said no attempt is being made to take the place of any place of any employee's own pastor. Although Jacobs is a Baptist minister, the work is strictly nondenominational, they said.

Jacobs presently has an office in a large trailer on the farm. His previous office, along with some of his records and files, was destroyed several months ago in a fire that burned down the company's main building as well as several other offices. He will have an office and counseling room in the new building to be constructed.

Jacobs holds a bachelors degree from Georgetown College in Kentucky and his theological degree from the Southern Baptist Theological Seminary in Louisville, Kentucky. Originally from Harrisburg, he pastored churches in Kentucky and in Carle before moving to Osceola.

Jacobs said he found being an industrial chaplain more informal than being pastor in a church. He said he thought the fellowship between himself and the employees was closer than with church members because he usually met them in smaller groups and person-to-person on production lines.

He said he was greeted most of the time with a sense of respect, but the situation was different from a pastor-congregation arrangement.

When he first took the job, Jacobs said some of the employees were reluctant to talk with him because they did not know exactly what he was doing. He said he suspected that some employees thought he was some sort of spy for the management.

However, Jacobs said, just like other pastors, he keeps all conversations in confidence and although he consults with the management on the over-all programs, his conversations and counseling work with the employees are not discussed with anyone other than the individual involved.

As chaplain, Jacobs works on a 24-hour basis and does not have to follow set routines. He said he has found more freedom in the inter change of ideas in being an industrial chaplain than as pastor. Frequently, he said, devotions turn into lively discussions touching upon problems common to all persons.

Jacobs said he had learned a great deal about the pressures on businessmen as well as on employees.

"If I could have done this first, it might have made a difference in the way I conducted myself as a pastor," Jacobs said. "On the other hand, my years in the pastoral ministry are now standing me in good stead."

Hope Star SPORTS

Sunday Was Day for AL Pitchers

By HERSHEL NISSENSEN
Associated Press Sports Writer
They say that pitching is the name of the game and the names in the American League Sunday were Mickey Lolich, Les Cain, Jim Palmer, Sonny Siebert, Vida Blue, Sam McDowell, Fritz Peterson and Bill Parsons.

Item: Lolich fired a four-hitter and fanned 10 in beating ex-Detroit teammate Denny McLain and Washington 5-0 in the opener of a doubleheader. Cain, just back from the minors, hauled six strong innings as the Tigers won the nightcap 11-0.

Item: Boston's unbeaten Siebert socked a two-run homer and pitched into the ninth as the Red Sox edged Baltimore 2-1 for a doubleheader split. The Orioles took the first game 12-3 behind Palmer.

Item: Blue streaked to his 10th straight triumph, a five-hitter, as Oakland downed Minnesota 3-1.

Item: McDowell survived an eight-inning free-for-all between Cleveland and New York and pitched his first complete game of the season, winning 2-1. Peterson of the Yankees won the opener 6-3 with his first route-going effort.

Item: Parsons, Milwaukee's rookie sensation, hurled a four-hitter and doubled home the Brewers' first two runs in a 4-0 victory over Kansas City.

California trounced the Chicago White Sox 10-5 in the other game.

National League scores: San Francisco 7, Houston 4; New York Mets 4, Atlanta 0; Montreal 4, Pittsburgh 2; Los Angeles 4, Chicago Cubs 3; St. Louis 6, San Diego 1 and Cincinnati 4, Philadelphia 3.

A crowd of 53,337 turned out in Detroit for McLain's first appearance there since the Tigers traded him away during the off-season. But the pitching of Lolich and two-run homers by Al Kaline and Norm Cash did him in.

McLain was cheered when his name was first announced but they turned to boos when he came to bat for the first time. Lolich, who predicted boos for himself and a standing ovation for McLain, was roundly cheered.

Cash walloped two more homers in the nightcap, one a grand slam, finishing the afternoon with seven RBI. Dalton Jones and Willie Horton hit solo homers as the Tigers ran their winning streak to six games and Washington's losing skid to eight.

Cain, counted on in the spring as Detroit's No. 3 starter, reported earlier in the day from Toledo, where he worked out shoulder problems. The left-hander allowed three hits and struck out six before giving way to Joe Niekro.

Boston's Siebert needed his third home run of the season and relief help from Sparky Lyle in the ninth to chalk up his eighth victory. Frank Robinson drove in five runs with a pair of homers in the first game for Baltimore and Dave Johnson also homered as Paine boosted his record to 7-2.

Robinson, however, struck out for the final out of the nightcap with the potential tying run on third base. The leaders in the AL East thus split their four-game series and the Red Sox went home with a three-game lead.

Oakland's Blue got all the runs he needed against Minnesota in the fourth inning. Jim Perry of the Twins had retired the first 11 batters but Reggie Jackson doubled and Mike Epstein homered. The fireballing lefty hasn't lost since opening day and the only Minnesota run was unearned.

The fireworks in Cleveland started when McDowell slid into New York shortstop Gene Michael while being forced at second base. The two wrestled each other to the ground. Yankee first baseman John Ellis leaped on McDowell's back and pummeled him, then took on anyone in a Cleveland uniform. The Indians got the winning run on Steve Niekro with two out.

Indianapolis Field of 33 Saturday

By BLOYS BRITT
AP Auto Racing Writer
INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — A second-hungry field of 33 drivers, 21 of whom ran faster than Al Unser's pole-winning speed last year, has been completed for the 55th running of the Indianapolis 500-mile race Saturday.

The qualifiers for this $1 million classic, by far the richest auto race in the world, blizzed the 62-year-old Indianapolis Motor Speedway during four days of time trials at a pace not even Johnny Lightning would have believed possible.

Their average speed was a whistling 171.665 miles per hour, a jump of 4.5 m.p.h. over last year's field. Not since 1964, when the late Jimmy Clark made his debut at Indianapolis, had there been that big an increase.

And Pete Revson, a handsome 32-year-old sports car driver from New York City, won the pole position in one of the new winged McLaren cars built in England. His 4-lap, 10-mile speed was 178.696 m.p.h., a hike of 8.4 miles per hour over Unser's 1970 effort.

Not only that, Revson, pulled the track's one-lap record up to 179.354—or 8.2 miles faster than Johnny Rutherford's 171.135 top of a year ago.

The new McLaren, hatched in the fertile brain of designer-driver Bruce McLaren before he was killed 18 months ago, are low-slung, light-weight machines powered by improved four-cylinder, turbocharged Offenhauser engines. They not only carry a rear-mounted wing, but intricate body work that make them aerodynamically as swift as the wind.

Mark Donohue, the 34-year-old protege of Philadelphiaian Roger Penske, put another of the McLaren's in the middle of the front row at a speed of 177.087, while former world driving champion Denis Hulme was fourth fastest in a team car to Revson's at 174.910.

Bobby Unser, the 1968 winner, shares the third front row spot with Revson and Donohue at 175.816 in one of Dan Gurney's Oldsmobile Eagle-Offys.

Al Unser, whose 1970 triumph was the springboard for a $496,000 season, and the venerable A.J. Foyt Jr., seeking a fourth Indy victory in a new Coyote-Ford of his own design, share the second row with Hulme.

The fourth former winner in the field, Mario Andretti, will start in the fourth row with the veteran Lloyd Ruby, a 12-year visitor to Gasoline Alley, and Joe Leonard, Al Unser's team mate in one of Parnelli Jones' Colt-Fords. Andretti's machine is a radically designed McNamara-Ford designed in Germany and owned by STP millionaire Andy Granatelli.

In the ninth on a single by Eddie Leon, a walk and pinch hitter Gomer Hodge's single. Roy White, Frank Baker and Jerry Kenney did the hitting as the Yankees snapped a five-game losing streak in the opener.

Milwaukee's Parsons broke up a scoreless tie against Kansas City's Bruce Dal Canton in the fifth with his two-run double and scored on a single by Ron Theobald. Johnny Briggs homered in the eighth for the Brewers, snapping the Royals' string of 101 innings without allowing a home run.

John Stephenson drilled a three-run homer and Ken McMullen and Sandy Alomar added solo shots as the Angels turned on the White Sox. Winner Andy Messersmith held Chicago hitless for five innings but was knocked in the seventh by Bobby Bonds.

Montreal's Marshall Sinks Pitt

By KEN RAPPOPORT
Associated Press Sports Writer
Ernie McNally was faced with one of those life-or-death situations ... until Montreal dialed M for Marshall.

And Mike Marshall came in to rescue McNally's first major league victory, choking a Pittsburgh rally in the ninth inning for a 4-2 Sunday success.

You couldn't blame the rookie right-hander. After all, he had silenced the heavy-hitting Pirates on two hits and was leading 4-0 going into the last inning. Then he gave up a single and walk and had a 2-0 count on Charlie Sands when Manager Gene Mauch summoned the other half of the M Squad.

Marshall completed a walk to Sands to fill the bases, then gave up a run-scoring single to Manny Sanguillen before throwing a double-play ball that scored the Pirates' second run.

He nailed the final out on Vic Davalillo's bouncer.

The Cincinnati Reds whipped the Philadelphia Phillies 4-3; the New York Mets dumped the Atlanta Braves 4-0; the Los Angeles Dodgers turned back the Chicago Cubs 4-3; the St. Louis Cardinals romped over the San Diego Padres 6-1 and the San Francisco Giants thumped the Houston Astros 7-4.

American League results: California 10, Chicago 5; Oakland 3, Minnesota 1; Milwaukee 4, Kansas City 0; Detroit 5, Washington 0 in the first game of a doubleheader and Detroit 11, Washington 0 in the nightcap; Baltimore 12, Boston 3 in the first game and Boston 2, Baltimore 1 in the second; New York 6, Cleveland 3 in the first game and Cleveland 2, New York 1 in the second.

McNally, a converted outfielder in only his fourth year of pro ball, was the Expos' 25th choice in the National League expansion draft in 1968.

He pitched well enough to win his first major league start, but the Expos didn't give him any backing and he dropped a 1-0 heart-breaker to Philadelphia on April 20. Then followed a 3-0 loss to Chicago, 6-1 to Cincinnati and 10-4 to Atlanta. As in his previous starts, the 25-year-old right-hander said he relied heavily on a slider and fast ball Sunday.

McNally's mates gave him a 1-0 cushion on Jim Gosger's sacrifice fly in the third inning, then Bob Bailey delivered the killing blow with a three-run homer in the eighth.

Tony Perez' two-run homer highlighted a four-run first inning that carried Cincinnati over Philadelphia. After Perez stroked his sixth circuit job of the year, the Reds' scored two decisive unearned runs. Lee May drew a two-out walk off Chris Short and came home on an outfield misplay of Al Ferrara's line drive. Tommy Helms then followed with a double to score Ferrara.

The Phillies, who cut the lead to 4-2 in their first, scored another run on Deron Johnson's bouncer in the eighth but were denied the tying tally when Dick Selma was thrown out by Pete Rose trying to score from second on Tim McCarver's single.

Veteran Ray Sadecki, making only his second start of the season, quieted Atlanta on five hits for New York.

"I'd live to be in rotation," said the 30-year-old Sadecki who once was a 20-game winner for St. Louis, "but there's no room for a guy to get into the rotation on this staff."

Sadecki referred to the top four of Tom Seaver, Jerry Koosman, Gary Gentry and Nolan Ryan, all young, strong arms off to good starts this season.

Duke Sims led off the ninth inning with a triple and Jim Lefebvre followed with a home run to give Los Angeles a victory that ended a seven-game winning streak for Chicago's Ferguson Jenkins. The Cubs had taken a 3-2 lead in the seventh on run-reproducing hits by Billy Williams and Jim Hickman.

Lanier 250 Won by Tiny Lund

By ED SHEARER
Associated Press Sports Writer
GAINESVILLE, Ga. (AP) — DeWayne "Tiny" Lund, who describes himself as "an old dirt dauber," found enough to suit him while cutting the corners on Road Atlanta's asphalt course Sunday as he drove to an easy victory in the NASCAR Lanier 250 Grand American race.

The 250-pound fish camp operator from Cross, S.C., pushed his Camaro past the checkered flags in each of the two 125-mile heat races on the 2.53-mile road racing course. He covered the initial heat with an average speed of 82.95 miles per hour despite four laps under the caution flag and increased it to 87.12 for the second 50-lap heat.

Lund's only close call came in an esse curve on the 29th lap of the second heat when he attempted to speed past Bob Tullius of Falls Church, Va. Lund's light blue car went into a spin, swirling in dirt, but he got right back on the course, pitted for fuel and immediately regained the lead he had lost to Gene Felton of Atlanta.

Aggregate totals were used in determining the order of finish, with the best mark in the second heat deciding any ties.

A tie developed for second between Felton and the team of Tullius and veteran Buck Baker. Felton drove his Camaro to fourth and second place finishes. Baker was second in the first heat and Tullius was fourth in the second in the Baker Firebird.

Bobby Allison of Hueytown, Ala., one of the top drivers on NASCAR's Grand National circuit, took fourth place and former television star Dick Smothers shared driving duty with John Greenwood of Troy, Mich., to place fifth in a Cougar.

Kuchel to Plead Case for Merger

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — A former U.S. Senator from California is among those being considered to plead the case of a professional basketball merger before Congress, a Memphis newspaper reports.

The Commercial Appeal said Sunday the list of possible candidates is down to three—with lawyer Thomas Kuchel included.

The National and American Basketball Associations have reached agreement with each other on a merger, but in order to carry out the play congress must exempt basketball from antitrust laws.

Kuchel was formerly Republican minority whip in the Senate.

Jack Stewart Wins at Monte Carlo

By JOHN VINOCUR
Associated Press Writer
MONTE CARLO (AP) — While Jackie Stewart pushed into the lead at the Monaco Grand Prix, a bandy-legged man walked away from his wrecked car just two laps after the starting flag.

Graham Hill, 41 years old and five-time winner at Monte Carlo, strode in one direction while Stewart, the long-haired Scotsman, screamed by in another.

It was the old generation leaving the field clear for new blood. Stewart, with his victory Sunday, seemed to clearly become an inheritor in the line of auto-racing giants.

Hill, whose career links up with those of Juan Fangio and Stirling Moss, said of Stewart after the race:

"He's certainly a great driver and he drove a typically excellent race."

Fangio, who with Moss watched the Grand Prix, also had a compliment and a subtle observation on race driving. "Stewart is so good," said Fangio, "because he behaves like he's going slowly. When you look at the clock, then you see how fast he was."

The Scotsman in a Tyrrell-Ford set a lap record while finishing 25 seconds ahead of Ronnie Peterson of Sweden, second-best in an STP-March and in turn, a fraction ahead of Jacky Ickx of Belgium in a Ferrari.

Stewart thus increased his lead in the world drivers championships to 15 points over Mario Andretti of Nazareth, Pa., eliminated in time trials Saturday.

Russian, Dane Advance in Chess

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Grandmasters Tigran Petrosian of the Soviet Union and Bent Larsen of Denmark recorded victories Sunday in quarter-finals play of the World Chess Championships but illness forced postponement of the Bobby Fischer-Mark Taimanov elimination match.

In Sevilla, Spain, Petrosian defeated Robert Heubner, West Germany, in 40 moves.

This was the seventh match between the two players and the first victory by Petrosian. The other six games finished in a tie.

Petrosian made a Sicilian defense in the match which lasted five hours. The Soviet player has four points and Huebner three.

The eighth match of the ten-match round will be played Monday.

In Las Palmas, Canary Islands, Larsen beat Wolfgang Uhlmann, East Germany, in the 36th move of their sixth match.

Larsen made a merano defense. The match lasted 4½ hours. He now has four points and Uhlmann has two.

The seventh match of the ten-game round will be played Tuesday.

And in Vancouver, B.C., Soviet Grandmaster Taimanov, 45, asked postponement of the fourth game to seek treatment for high blood pressure. Next game in the match will be played Tuesday.

U.S. Grandmaster Fischer leads the 10-game match 3-0. The match is one of a candi-

NORTH LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — Tom Ulozas walked off the 18th green not knowing he had won the $25,000 Maumelle Open.

Joyce Ulozas arrived at the course about that time, unaware her husband had earned the $5,000 first prize.

Ulozas, 28, of Edison, N.J., shot a one-over-par 73 in the final round Sunday for a 283 total and a four-stroke victory over Rik Massengale, Mike Reasor and Jim Grant.

Ulozas, who has cashed only one check since joining the tour three months ago, started the final round one shot behind Massengale. Massengale shot a 78 Sunday, Reasor a 68 and Grant a

Teacher Named Track Meet Star

By GREG MACALEESE
Associated Press Sports Writer
EL PASO, Tex. (AP) — Jay Silvester almost didn't make it to the El Paso Invitational track meet Saturday.
His plane from Provo, Utah, was delayed by bad weather.
But Silvester more than made up for his tardiness, winning the discus with a toss of 211-10 into a 40-mile-per-hour wind and finishing a surprise second in the shot put behind Randy Matson.

The quiet strongman, who teaches at Brigham Young University, was named the meet's outstanding athlete for his efforts.

The estimated 11,000 fans who attended the El Paso meet didn't realize how lucky they were in seeing Silvester in action.

"I was bench pressing more than 400 pounds," Silvester said Saturday night, "and the bar slipped off my hands and landed on my chest. I'm just lucky I didn't have any vertebrae separated."

Just to show the incident didn't bother him, Silvester went out a week later and threw the discus 230-10 at a Bakersfield, Calif., meet, well past his world record of 224-5.

However, his 230-10 heave was disallowed as a new world record because the Bakersfield meet was not AAU sanctioned.

Silvester got off a 222-foot toss Saturday, but fouled, one of four times he stepped out of the ring.

The 40-mile-an-hour winds and blowing dust hindered most of the performers Saturday.

Villanova's Marty Liquori, fresh from his "Dream Mile" victory over Jim Ryun in the Martin Luther King Games at Philadelphia, ran a very slow 4:10.9 in winning the mile at El Paso.

This was 16 seconds slower than the 3:54.6 mile he ran against Ryun.

Liquori, wearing tinted sunglasses to keep the dust out of his eyes, trailed the field for the first three laps and then took the lead with 220 yards remaining to finish 10 yards ahead of second place Rex Maddaford of New Zealand, an Eastern New Mexico University student.

Norm Tate, competing unattached from New York City, got off one of the year's best long jumps with a leap of 27-0 1/4.

Cougar Is Favored at Aqueduct

Cougar — is a grass specialist but the only thing green about the Californian Stakes was the $81,000 the Chilean-bred won and maybe a few envious faces belonging to Charlie Whittingham's fellow trainers.
Bill Shoemaker sent the Whittingham-trained, Mrs. Mary F. Jones — horse over 1 1/16 miles Californian on the dirt in 1:41 1/5 under 124 pounds for a 1 1/2-length victory over L.R. French Jr.'s longshot Master Hand, 112. P.L. C.T. Grissom's Fleet Surprise, 118, another outsider, was third in the field of 11 at Hollywood Park.

Cougar II's piece of the $138,600 gross boosted his earnings to $306,470 since he came to this country a year ago. He paid a winning mutual of $4.20.

In the big race in the East, the $63,900 Top Flight Handicap for fillies and mares at Aqueduct, Mrs. Whitney Stone's Shuvee earned first prize of $32,340 and boosted her career earnings to $768,098, second only to Cicada's $783,674 among distaff runners.

In winning her 13th stakes in four years of racing, Shuvee, $3.40, carried 127 pounds, including Ron Turcotte, over the 1 1/8 miles in 1:49 3/5 for a three-quarter-length margin over dansar Stable's Cathy Honey, 118, with Stephen A. Calder's Office Queen, 127, third.

Odd-Ball Remarks Heard at Maumelle's Tough Golf Course

NORTH LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — It was the first day of the $25,000 Maumelle Open. A female fan, who may have been more familiar with a miniature golf score card than the Maumelle Country Club course, took a hard look at the leader board.
She reviewed the players' scores, hole by hole.

"Mym, my," she said. "All these scores and still no holes in one."

That was just one of the tournament incidents worth repeating.

Four pros were putting on the practice green late one afternoon.

Ouachita Puts 3 on AIC All-Star

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Conference champion Ouachita Baptist University placed three players on this season's All-AIC baseball team, it was announced Saturday.

State College of Arkansas and Harding College, who tied for runnerup honors in the league race, landed two men on the team.

Ouachita players named to the team were outfielder Jim Boyette, second baseman Bubba Cope and pitcher Roger Sledge.

Representing SCA are first baseman Paul McGinnis and outfielder Dwight Duhart. Harding placed pitcher Joe Mathias and shortstop Dallas Howard. Shortstop Darrell Horn of Ozarks tied Howard for a team position.

Others selected for the team were third baseman Johnny White of Southern State, catcher Donnie Matlock of Henderson and outfielder Rick Thone of Arkansas Tech.

Birdies Bail Littler Out in Colonial

By MIKE COCHRAN
Associated Press Writer
FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) —

"One shot has a way of turning a whole tournament around," said Gene Littler, admittedly a little dazed at his triumph in the $125,000 Colonial National Invitation event.

"Without that eagle Saturday, I didn't have a chance of winning. And the birdie at the 13th today kinda got me going."

Five shots back as the final round unfurled Sunday over the windy-whipped par 70 Colonial Course, Littler birdied three of the closing six holes and captured the $25,000 prize by a stroke over Bert Yancey.

Littler set out Sunday at 214, five strokes behind pace-setting Julius Boros and trailing 11 members of the field. In the end, it was Boros, George Knudson, Homero Blancas, Dave Stockton, Yancey and Littler locked in a title fight with the tricky, swirling winds.

Littler fashioned a 69 for a 72-hole total of 283, three over par, the highest winning total in a PGA event since 1963. Yancey closed with a 70 for 284 and $14,300.

Orville Moody, Boros, Knudson and Fred Marti were a stroke back and earned $8,850 apiece. Five others, including Blancas, the defending champion, and Gary Players, were clustered at 286.

Littler, three times a runner-up here, smashed a 7-iron 165 yards into the cup on the 18th hole Saturday en route to a 74, and said before that he would have taken $500 and plane fare home Saturday night.

He gave little indication of what lay ahead Sunday, three-putting the first hole and making the turn in two over par 37. He struck first at the 13th, rapping a 6-iron to within six or seven feet and dropping the birdie putt.

The smooth-swinging, 40-year-old Californian rolled in a 35-footer at the 15th to trim away another stroke, then birdied the 16 from eight feet to snatch the lead.

He had a moment of torment at the final hole, bouncing a tee shot off a tree into the right rough and leaving his 4-wood approach short of the green.

But he chipped to within eight feet, sank the putt and vanished into the gallery to await the charges of Blancas, Knudson and Boros, playing several holes behind him. None materialized.

The triumph, Littler's 24th, pushed the new champion's total earnings this year to more than $80,000, most of it in the last six or seven weeks.

Texas Wins in 5 of 8 Hot-Rodders

HOUMA, La. (AP) — Texans dominated the National Hot Rod Association's world championship series race Sunday, winning in five of the eight categories.

The top fuel eliminator was Mike Tarter of Houston, whose low elapsed time in the quarter-mile run was 6.70 seconds.

Leonard Hughes of Houma, La., won the funny car eliminator race with an elapsed time of 7.00 seconds.

The top gas eliminator was Bob Coleman of Arlington, Tex., with a time of 8.02.

David Adkins of Irving, Tex., won the pro stock eliminator race; Ken McLelland of Friona, Tex., won the super stock category, and the Martin Brothers of Baytown, Tex., won the modified eliminator.

Norman Wilt of New Orleans won the competition eliminator race while Sonny Gregoire of Baker, La., won the stock eliminator race.

Ly Oswald & James Jacoby

Oswald: "One of the toughest jobs in bridge is that undertaken by Alfred Dornier, Tannah Hirsch, Tom Smith and Steve Becker. They attempt to analyze what will happen when a 100,000 pairs play the hands in the continent-wide charity game."

Jim: "It is tough enough to guess what will happen when a hand is played just twice in a team game. Let's show some of the hands in the column, placing declarer in the South."

Oswald: "The panel takes a rather safe stand with today's hand and suggests that practically every South player will wind up in hearts. The bidding in the box is fairly normal."

Jim: "West will open the king of clubs and probably shift to the four of spades. South will take his ace and go after trumps. East will get in with the king, cash a high spade and lead another one whereupon South will make the rest of the tricks."

Arms Limit Parley to Finland

VIENNA (AP) — American and Soviet negotiators to the strategic arms limitation talks—SALT—decided today to end their fourth round of talks here on Friday and make a new beginning in Helsinki, Finland, probably in early June.

A SALT spokesman said a communique will be issued after the final session at the American Embassy building. The negotiators will meet for lunch Tuesday at the residence of the American ambassador.

Groups of experts met today. One dealt with the direct Washington-Moscow communication link, the so-called "hot line." The experts are discussing ways of modernizing and improving this line.

The fourth round here began March 16. Thirteen working sessions have been held. In all, since SALT opened some 20 months ago at Helsinki, 68 sessions have been held.

President Nixon announced last Thursday that the SALT negotiators would concentrate this year on working out an agreement for limiting antiballistic missiles and, "together with concluding an agreement to limit WBM's, they will agree on certain measures with respect to limitation of offensive strategic weapons."

Radio Moscow said it would be a two-step procedure. The long deadlock in the talks had resulted from conflicting views of the two superpowers on how to proceed.

Vietnam Pullout Is Before House

By WALTER R. MEARS
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate's refusal to legislate a cutback in American forces in Europe by the end of the year leaves it still facing a demand that Congress force the withdrawal of all U.S. troops from Vietnam on the same timetable.

Opponents of the Vietnam withdrawal plan say the 61-36 vote last week against cutting the U.S. troop level in Europe from 300,000 to 150,000 men indicates the war zone proposal also will lose.

"It's enough of the same issue to make us feel that we have the votes to defeat the amendment," said Senate Republican Leader Hugh Scott. "But there will be some switchers," Scott acknowledged.

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield, sponsor of the measure to require a U.S. cutback in Europe, disagreed. The issues are not parallel, he said. "That's a war zone."

Mansfield aid the Vietnam withdrawal measure, sponsored by Sens. George McGovern, D-S.D., Sen. Mark O. Hatfield, R-Ore., and 24 allies, is gaining strength. It was defeated 55 to 39 last year.

tary obligation complete. Freyer, like two others contacted, was reluctant to talk about the ad. All three said they have not been pressured to resign and that they are not being harassed by the Army.

Maj. Jack I. Stein, a 30-year-old doctor from Brooklyn, N.Y., who has been in the Army one year, said he did not plan to resign.

Further, he said the Army officer who interviewed him was "quite understanding."

The advertisement said: "We, the undersigned concerned officers at Fort Bragg and Pope Air Force Base wish to make known our feelings about the immoral and wasteful war in which our country is embroiled. We agree with what we feel to be the majority view in this country that the war in Vietnam should end."

"We exercise our constitutional right to add our views to those who have already publicly spoken out. With them we demand the withdrawal of all American military personnel and advisors from that embattled land by the end of 1971."

The advertisement declared it was sponsored by the Concerned Officer Movement, which has national offices in Washington.

Stein said he is not a member of the Concerned Officer Movement. Another doctor who signed the ad, Maj. Roger H. Stewart, 30, said that he was not a member of any antiwar group.

Stewart, who has been in the Army 10 months, said that as far as he knew there hadn't been any campaign to get the officers to sign the ad. He said he believed that the idea caught on through personal contacts.

Disclosure of Campaign Funds Urged

By JOHN CHADWICK
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Deputy Atty. Gen. Richard G. Kleindienst today urged the Senate to reject a proposed $5,000 limitation on individual contributions to candidates for federal office.

He said full disclosure of campaign contributions, not a dollar ceiling, is the way to guard against political corruption. "Timely publicity would permit the voter to decide whether a candidate's sources of support are unduly concentrated or otherwise suspect," Kleindienst said in testimony prepared for the Senate elections subcommittee.

He was the leadoff witness at hearings on a bill to limit media spending by candidates for President, the Senate and House, to plug loopholes in disclosure of their campaign financing, and to provide tax credits or deductions for small contributions.

Kleindienst generally endorsed the measure of the type of comprehensive legislation called for by President Nixon last year when he vetoed a bill limiting broadcast spending.

However, Kleindienst called for a number of changes in addition to striking the contribution ceiling. He recommended repeal of the existing provisions which require broadcasters to give equal time to minor party candidates as allowed major party candidates.

The bill would change this and sets the same limit on expenditures for other media like newspapers, magazines and billboards.

The Justice Department official also proposed a ban on a candidate's use of campaign funds for personal purposes and said violations should be punishable by imprisonment.

The administration also objected to the bill's separate limitations on media types of spending Kleindienst said.

The bill limits spending on radio and TV broadcasts to five cents per person of voting age and sets the same limit on expenditures for other media like newspapers, magazines and billboards.
